Positive: Professionalism, Quality, Responsiveness, Value

We have had a good experience with Redecon managing various construction projects for us. The company maybe new in the industry, but it is very professional and transparent in dealing with it's clients. We continue to have a professional working relationship with Redecon, because of the quick response to any issues or concerns that we raise. The company's strength is the professionalism, transparency and strong work ethics practised by the owner.

Positive: Professionalism, Quality, Responsiveness, Value

Having dealt with many small companies and almost resigned to accepting the unprofessional ways of doing business that comes with it, it was perhaps unbelievable to work with Redecon. The level of professionalism is breathtaking, transparency, communication and constant updates are of world class standards.

Redecon ways of doing business is second to none, I would highly recommend this company. I live outside Zimbabwe, after years of being disappointed with the outcome of my building projects by various companies and family members Redecon gave me the confidence and quality service that can not be matched by any other company or individuals I have dealt with.
